RETURNS EIGHT
INDICTMENTSGrand Jury Adjourns and Makes
Findings in Eight Different Counts
After Investigations.

EXPECT VACATION WARRANTS

In Final Report Body Recommends
Installation of Heating Plant at County Asylum.

The grand jury returned eight indictments and made its final report late last evening before adjourning for this term of court. It was expected that the jury would return today and make its findings, but the work was completed earlier than it was expected to be and the jury made its report so that it would not be necessary to return today.

It is understood that the eight indictments are for law violations that are not very grievous ones. Nothing of very great importance was to be considered by the jury which leads to the presumption that the indictments are for not very serious offenses.

Possibly the alleged "trap game and blind tiger" in the Commercial block which was raided by the local police was of greater import than anything which was to come before the jury. It is known that the raid was investigated as some of the men who were caught in the room by the police were before the grand jury. The cases of beer and the round table in the room were confiscated and are now piled in a corner in the mayor's office in the city building. It is not known whether or not any indictments were returned in that matter.

Another matter of some importance which was investigated by the grand jury was the alleged shortage of a conductor of the Indianapolis & Cincinnati Traction company. It is understood that he held out tickets and gave them to his friends. They rode to Indianapolis and he "threw" diners for them at cafes in Indianapolis, so it is said. Those who were benefitted by the conductor's alleged misconduct were before the grand jury Wednesday afternoon and it is supposed that they were subpoenaed for the purpose of telling what they knew about the affair. The conductor was summarily dismissed by the traction company. Later, while in Chicago, he sent back five dollars "conscience money" to an official of the company which he declared he had stolen in car fares.

Today no warrants were issued for the arrest of persons who are charged in the eight indictments. It is not known when the arrests will be made but it is supposed that vacation warrants will be issued at the close of court Saturday. The work that would be entailed for the attaches of the court if the arrests were made today or tomorrow would hinder them greatly in winding up the term's business which closes tomorrow evening, and it is supposed that vacation warrants will be issued for this reason.

The grand jury embodied in its report that it had inspected the county jail and the poor asylum. The jury found them both in very good condition, the report says. The grand jury recommended that new linoleum be purchased for the jail floor.

The grand jury recommended also in its report that a heating plant be installed at the county poor asylum. This is an improvement that has been considered for some time but one that has never been recommended by any grand jury. The jury advised that a new poultry house be built at the asylum.

FIRST MAIL BY AERO ROUTE

Tom Green, Jr., Gets Post Card by Aeroplane From St. Louis.

The first mail by the aerial route was received in Rushville yesterday. It was a post card addressed to Thomas M. Green, Jr., the six-months old son of Dr. and Mrs. Lowell M. Green of 329 East Sixth street and was sent by Mrs. James Larimore of St. Louis, Mo., an aunt of the baby. The card was stamped as follows: "Aeroplane Station, No. 1, St. Louis, Mo. Aviation Field, Oct. 4, 1911." It is the first mail of its kind that has ever been received here and is among the first in the State.

OBSERVE RILEY
DAY IN SCHOOLSSchool Children Render Special Programs in All of the Buildings
Today.

MUSICAL READINGS OF POEMS

Riley day was appropriately observed in the public schools of Rushville today as it was all over the State of Indiana, acting in accord with an order issued by Charles A. Greathouse, superintendent of public instruction. This is James Whitcomb Riley's birthday. It is the first time that such an honor was ever accorded the Indiana poet.

At the close of recitation periods in the high school this afternoon a short program was held to observe the day fittingly. Miss Norma Smith gave two musical readings, "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" and "There Little Girl Don't Cry," both of which will be recognized as Riley's poems. H. B. Wilson, professor of English, gave a short talk on Riley and his life. In the grades at the Graham, Jackson and Havens school buildings the day was observed with short programs this afternoon.

DAMAGE SUIT IS
ON IN COURT TODAYCase of Sorrell Against Miller Not Expected to go to Jury Before
4:30 O'clock.

OUTGROWTH OF STREET FIGHT

The case of Charles Sorrell against Glen Miller for personal damages occupied all of the time in circuit court today. The case was started about nine o'clock this morning and it was not expected that the case would get to the jury before four-thirty o'clock. The hearing was much shorter than it was expected it would be as there were sixteen witnesses testified. Dr. R. T. Blount, who attended Sorrell after the fight, was one of the witnesses for the plaintiff.

Sorrell wants damages for injuries which he is alleged to have received in the street in front of the Grand hotel when he was attacked, as he alleged in the complaint, by Glen Miller. The plaintiff was attempting to show that he was unable to be out for some time after the trouble and the defense showed that he was present at the preliminary hearing in mayor's court five days after the fight. Sorrell attempted to show that he was permanently injured and that he was unable to work for a few weeks. Young & Young represented Sorrell, and Smith, Cambern & Smith are attorneys for Miller.

ALL MAILS BEAR
NEWS OF CROWDRepublicans Acknowledge Receipt of Invitations to Love Feast and Send Word They are Coming.

MUCH PUBLICITY IS GIVEN IT

Republican Newspapers Through the State Make Mention of Gathering and Comment on It.

Every incoming mail to Rushville bears letters to the committee which has had charge of the invitations for the Republican love feast and smoker which is assuming larger proportions every day. The communications, with few exceptions, are all in the same vein. There are few party workers in the State who have not replied by return mail after receiving the invitations, that they will be here for the occasion.

The majority of the Republicans, who have acknowledged receipt of the invitations and declared their intentions of coming, have taken that opportunity to express their gratitude to James E. Watson and the members of the committee for calling the meeting of State wide importance at this time. All Republicans are agreed that it is the logical time for such a gathering and have congratulated the local Republicans for taking the matter in hand as they have.

There is still more news of excursions and delegations which will come to this city Tuesday night. Besides the delegations which have already been mentioned information is sent from Anderson that an effort is being made to organize a crowd to attend the love feast. This is similar to the action that is being taken in most of the principal cities in Indiana while Republicans will come in small numbers even from the cities and counties in remotest northern and southern Indiana. Ed Hendee is in charge of the work in Anderson and has sent word that he will have a delegation of Republicans which may reach one hundred.

Much publicity has been given the meeting throughout the State. Most of the Republican newspapers in Central Indiana have made mention of the meeting and have carried long articles in their columns. In some instances newspapers have printed the personal letters which have been sent to the editors. All in all the meeting has been well advertised and there is every reason to believe that most every Republican in the State is acquainted with the fact that the gathering will be held here.

Some few Democrat newspapers, principally the Greensburg Democrat, have sought to antagonize the Republicans who did not receive personal invitations to be present. Of course, the stories in the Greensburg Democrat will not be taken very seriously by the Republicans of Decatur county as they know the spirit in which it was done. The information is that a large delegation of Decatur county Republicans will be here for the meeting.

That Republicans will take no stock in the story that the meeting is solely for a few is certain when they consider the fact that it would be an endless task to mail personal invitations to every Republican in the State or even in the Sixth district. That it was intended that the meeting should be general is evidenced by the fact that invitations were sent to many of the Republican newspapers in the State urging the editors to come and bring all of the Republicans in their county. This means was employed as it would be impossible to get the names of the Republicans in the State as well as an untiring and very costly task to mail them all personal invitations.

FORTY AUTOS GO
IN BIG JOY PARTYRushville Turns Out Loyal to Form
Booster Brigade to Move on Milroy.

LOCAL BAND ACCOMPANIES IT

Milroy "Exiles" Hold Home-Coming
There Today—High Schools in Field Meet Tomorrow.

Adjoining county seats have sent their automobile booster delegations, but never such a one as that which journeyed from this city to Milroy last evening to attend the fall festival there. The number of machines which comprised the brigade has been variously estimated from twenty-five to fifty and there are people who counted the squadron and declare that there were thirty-five machines in the line.

Besides boosting Rushville the local people enjoyed themselves immensely. Much pleasure was had in making the trip as the machines all traveled in a line and, the trip was nothing more than one big "joy party" as it has been termed before. When the automobile leading the procession stopped, every car in the line was compelled to likewise, greatly to the discomfort of some of the drivers who "killed" their engines and had to get out and crank up again. But it was all in the bargain and it was considered a pleasure rather than a hardship.

The sight of that many automobiles traveling over a country road so closely together was a beautiful one. The lights were reflected in the sky and the spectacle was especially visible to the "vanguard" and the "rear-guard." Practically all of the machines were decorated in light green and white, the colors of the horse show, and streamers and small tags advertising the fall show hung from every car.

The Rushville band was on the job in force. The spirit for a booster trip was at its height last night and there was no difficulty in obtaining enough machines to carry the members of the band. There were vacant seats in many automobiles, so liberal were the owners with their cars. A city without a band like the local one must be in a sorry plight. As soon as the trip was suggested to the manager of the band a few days ago he entered into the spirit of the occasion loyally. The musical organization was glad to accommodate the promoters of the booster trip and proved conclusively that it has the interests of the city at heart. It has already assisted Rushville boosters much, in a willing and cheerful spirit, and stands ready to do the same thing again, for which all the commendation possible is due the band members. The band led the parade which the local delegation made after arriving in Milroy.

Today was a home-coming for the Milroy exiles in Rushville at the fall festival. Approximately two hundred went down on the morning train over the Big Four and will return at six o'clock this evening. The exiles met here early in the week and planned for the trip. They all carried baskets and planned to hold a big basket dinner there at noon.

The fall festival at Milroy is attracting considerable attention in this and adjoining counties. The little town was crowded to capacity today and yesterday more people were in the town than have been there for many years. The parade in which many Milroy persons participated, masking in grotesque fashion and wearing unique costumes, was the feature yesterday afternoon. Last night the free exhibition given by the Milroy Red Men was much enjoyed.

This morning and this afternoon the horse show was held and tonight the Milroy Odd Fellows will have charge of the program. Tomorrow afternoon the program will be started off with a band concert and will be followed by a number of contests, to the winners of which valuable prizes will be given. The Rushville, Greensburg and Milroy high schools will compete for prizes in track and field events.

HURT IN PIT CAVE-IN

Andy Westerfield is Severely Injured in Manilla Accident.

Andy Westerfield, Jr., of Manilla, suffered an accident about three o'clock yesterday afternoon, which resulted in the amputation of his middle toe. Mr. Westerfield was at work in the Macy gravel pit, four miles north of Manilla, when a cave-in occurred. In attempting to place his shovel so as to protect himself the keen shovel injured his toe so badly that Drs. W. E. and Emerson Barnum and Dr. T. C. Waltermire were compelled to amputate the injured member.

FIRE PREVENTION
TO BE DISCUSSEDCity Schools Will Observe Day Named by Governor Marshall in Proclamation.

FIRE DRILL IN THE GRADES

In accord with the proclamation of Governor Marshall, the schools of the city will observe "Fire Prevention Day" Monday. Superintendent J. H. Scholl of the city schools has received a notice from Superintendent of Public Instruction Greathouse, giving some suggestions as to how the day should be observed. Talks on fire prevention will be given in the grade schools and in the high school. The teachers will speak about the danger of rubbish and waste as a place where fire may start. The danger of carelessly handling matches and inflammable oils will also be mentioned. The grades will also have a fire drill.

There will be preaching services at the United Presbyterian church by the pastor, the Rev. A. W. Jamieson tonight at 7:45 in preparation for the communion services next Sabbath.

DEATH COMES TO
SIDNEY CONGERWell Known Man of Shelbyville Succumbs at Indianapolis Hospital
Following an Operation.

ACTIVE IN STATE FAIR WORK

Sheriff of Shelby County at One Time
—Widow and Three Children Survive.

Sidney W. Conger of Shelbyville, one of the most widely known men among the farmers of Indiana, and who had long figured in Republican politics of Shelby county and the State, died this morning at 9:15 o'clock at the Fletcher sanatorium in Indianapolis. He had been suffering for more than a year from cancer of the throat and for several months his family has been with him at the sanatorium.

Mr. Conger was sixty-one years old, and had lived all his life in Shelby county, where his father and his grandfather had also lived. He was one of the best known fine poultry experts in the United States and had a national reputation on account of his interest in State and county fairs.

As far back as most men can remember, Mr. Conger had been identified with county and State fairs. This gave him a wide acquaintance in this and other States. He had been a member of the Indiana State board of agriculture since 1900, and many of the recent improvements at the State fair grounds were due to his energetic action. While president of the State board, in 1907, Mr. Conger supervised the erection of the colosseum. He had been one of the most active workers among the legislators for an appropriation for the erection of the colosseum.

In the early eighties Mr. Conger served a term as sheriff of Shelby county. At that time he was the only Republican official in the county. Later he served his county as State representative. At the same time Charles Major of Shelbyville, the novelist, was a member of the Indiana house. Conger was appointed State oil inspector by Governor Durbin, one of his close friends, and served for eight years through the term of Governor Hanly and part of the term of Governor Marshall. He was a member of the Knights of Pythias and Sons of Veterans.

Mr. Conger had been sick for more than a year. He complained of an irritation in his throat and later it was found to be a cancer. An operation was performed at the Deaconess hospital last January, but it did not arrest the disease. From that time on he devoted all his time in trying to get well, and therefore did not listen to a number of friends who came to him to persuade him to become a candidate for Governor. His condition finally became so much worse that he was taken to the Fletcher sanatorium, Indianapolis, where he was delirious a large part of the time.

He leaves a widow and three children—David Conger of Anderson and Myrtle and Mary Conger.

WOULD BE BIG EVENT.

Huntington Herald: Word comes from Rushville that efforts are being made to arrange for a series of joint debates between Hon. James E. Watson and Speaker Champ Clark. It will be a great event for no two men in the country are more capable of presenting the issues dividing the Republican and Democratic parties. If arrangements are concluded the debates will be held in Kansas City, Des Moines, Lincoln and Omaha.

COST OF LIVING UNDER INQUIRY

Organized Effort at Indianapolis to Solve Problem.

WAGE WORKERS WANT TO KNOW

Arrangements Have Been Made For a Delegate Meeting of All Wage Workers at the Capital City to Consider the Whys and Wherefores of the Present Excessive Cost of the Necessities of Life.

Indianapolis, Oct. 6.—To discuss plans to lower the high cost of living in this city a delegate convention of wage workers will be held Sunday afternoon, Oct. 29, in accordance with steps taken by a committee appointed by Indianapolis Typographical union to plan concerted efforts on the part of the wage workers in dealing with the problems of the cost of living.

Before the time set for the convention each local union of every craft in Indianapolis will be reached through the committee and will be asked to send three delegates to the convention. Although the movement originated within the Typographical union, it is not intended to make the work one of unionism alone. Unorganized labor will be asked to participate in the convention on the same basis as union labor. Unorganized employes of every big factory or other industry in Indianapolis in which any considerable number of men is employed, will be invited to select delegates also to represent these employes.

The matter will first be broached to union labor through its central organization, in which more than one craft is represented. The delegate convention plan was adopted to prevent the "packing" of the meeting by any men who might be sent to it by commission men or others hostile to reduction in prices or interested in blocking any movement having the reduction of the high cost of living as its purpose.

AMUSEMENTS

When the New Theater Company of New York played in Indianapolis season before last the comedy "Don" delighted play-goers and the Indianapolis critics gave it unstinted praise. Mr. Winthrop Ames, who was director of the famous New Theater, has become a producing manager and will present "Don" at the Shubert Murat theater, Indianapolis with William Courtenay as the star and a notable supporting cast. The engagement is for three nights and a Wednesday matinee beginning on Monday, October 9th. "Don" had but a single performance in Indianapolis when the New Theater Company presented it, and the charm of this delightful comedy makes its return for a longer engagement a matter of congratulation. All the careful attention to detail which characterized its original performance is promised in the coming presentation. George Foster Platt, who staged the New York production, having directed rehearsals of Mr. Courtenay's company. An exact copy of the original stage settings and effects is also promised. The importance of the engagement is shown by the unusual cast which Mr. Ames has provided and which includes Mrs. Harriet Otis Dellenbaugh, Alfred Fisher, Miss Zeffie Tilbury, John Clulow, Miss Blanche Yurka, Miss Selma Hall, Miss Jessie Glendenning and Reginald Barlow.

It is said that Mr. Taft is missing his occasional week ends at Washington.

Like other children with a new toy, Italy thinks she will go out in the back yard and play with her modern war ships.

Champ Clark's famous remark about reciprocity and Canadian annexation will be classed by historians as among the useless noises.

It is always safer for a candidate for public office to dodge to the other side of the street if he sees a corporation officer or attorney drawing near.

It is complained that there has been a shrinkage of $800,000,000 in stock values. But we are simply having an economic wash day, in which a great deal of water is being squeezed out in the wringer.

The railroad companies took all possible pains for Mr. Taft's trip, except that they omitted the most necessary thing of all. That was to deport the local reception committee and keep them in solitary confinement until the President got by.

It looks very much like Prosecutor Baker of Indianapolis is afraid to answer the summons of the California court in the McAdara case. He evidently has heard a "noise" not quite so loud as the "kidnapping noise" to be sure, but a noise nevertheless.

The Wall street newspaper organs think the government is going to destroy business. They seem to believe the theory that the way to succeed in journalism is to have an intelligent anticipation of things that never happen.

Why shouldn't the Harriman lines recognize the union? Then Mr. Kruttschnitt can communicate with his men by using a two cent postage stamp, while now he must write personal letters to 30,000 of them.

Indianapolis is on the verge of a real for sure newspaper war, says the Marion Chronicle. The Indianapolis Sun is attempted to butt in on the time-honored preserves of the Indianapolis News, and has launched a Sunday paper which competes with the Indianapolis Star. The News is said to be planning a Sunday paper to meet the latest move of the Sun and the Scripps-McRae league is, according to rumor, getting ready with a change in the ownership of the Star league pending, the newspaper business at the state capital is certainly in a stirred up state.

In the present railway strike the weakness and subservience of the authorities, whose duty it should be to preserve order, is again displayed. Instead of arresting the rioters, they arrest those who are set upon by the strikers and as a consequence defend themselves the least they can under the trying circumstances. So long as the authorities show this partiality and fail to energetically prevent rioting at its first outbreak, so long will lives and property be at the mercy of mobs.

"The object of this meeting is to get together to enjoy the fellowship of good Republicans, to forget the past and face the future and to take counsel together for the good of the party generally."

The above is a paragraph from the call sent out for a meeting of Republicans at Rushville on the evening of October 10, says the Connersville News. The paragraph might be amended to read "and for the public generally." The delirium of strife and bitterness that disorganized the Republican party in the district, the State and the nation is passing. While errors were made in some instances and rebukes deserved, the experiment of going to the opposite extreme and putting the power of government into Democratic hands has already proved sadly defective if not disastrous. The wholesale violation of the pledges made in the platform on which Democratic congressmen were elected; in the matter of wool tariff, which misled many former Republicans, and the almost bankrupt condition of State finances has caused many sensible men who were led to vote for a change to see their error. It is about time for the pendulum of public opinion to swing back and nothing will help this more than friendly conference of Republicans such as that proposed.

Men are prone to differ in their views within as well as without parties. If every man adhered to his own opinions alone there might be a million instead of two or three or four parties. Compromise is essential to the success of all bodies. And in very truth there is very little over which Republicans of the alleged factions differ about. Now is an excellent time, especially for Sixth district Republicans, to meet and greet each other and in friendly conference make plans for the coming battle against the old-time enemy.

Beginning February 1, one month after he took charge, he has written to date, with the aid of his assistants, 110 official opinions to various offices and departments in the State government and has earned the title of "Write-'em-while-you-wait" Honan. Charles A. Greathouse, State superintendent of public instruction, has been the greatest drain on the legal knowledge of the attorney general. To date, Greathouse had received 23 official opinions. W. H. O'Brien, auditor of State, is next with 14.

NOTHING TO FEAR FROM EARLY FROST

Growing Conditions Late This Summer Matured the Corn Much Earlier Than Last Year.

CROPS ARE OUT OF DANGER

Farmers and market gardeners say they have nothing to fear from an early frost. The only crop that could be damaged by an unusually heavy frost would be late potatoes and at that the damage would not be great.

The corn crop in Rush county is out of danger. Much of this year's early crop has been cut. The growing conditions late this summer matured the corn much earlier than last year.

There will be a large yield of late apples. A light frost will not damage this crop. Buyers say that an extremely cold wave at this time would do serious damage to the late potato crop in Michigan. A large per cent of the potato supply for Eastern Indiana will come from Michigan this year owing to the failure of the local crop.

AMUSEMENTS

The Palace will have the usual change of program tonight with two reels of pictures.

The Portola will have a feature program tonight showing the usual three reels of pictures. "The Last Drop of Water" is a Biograph production telling of a pathetic story. An emigrant train crossing the great American desert is attacked by Indians and the battle scene is very realistic. The Kalem picture, "By the Aid of a Lariat" is a sensational western picture, showing how a girl makes her escape across a deep ravine by the aid of a lariat. One other good picture will be shown.

CAPT. GOWDY IMPROVING.

Capt. J. K. Gowdy, who has been ill for the past two weeks at his home in North Perkins street, was greatly improved today and is gradually recovering.

The funeral services of George Hayes, the Orange township farmer, who committed suicide Tuesday, were held yesterday, being conducted by the Rev. Mr. Scull. Burial occurred in the Moscow cemetery.

CHAPTER XIII.

The Face of Letty Lane.
As Dan went through the halls of the Carlton on his way to his rooms that same evening, the porter gave him two notes, which Dan went down into the smoking-room to read. He tore open the note bearing the Hotel Savoy on the envelope, and read:

"Dear Boy: Will you come around tonight and see me about five o'clock? Don't let anything keep you." (Letty Lane had the habit of scratching out phrases to insert others, and there was something scratched out.) "I want to talk to you about something very important. Come sure. L. L."

Dan looked at the clock; it was after nine, and she would be at the Gaiety going on with her performance.

The other note, which he opened more slowly, was from Ruggles, and it began in just the same way as the dancer's had begun:

BALD HEADS NOT WANTED

Baldness is too Generally Considered a Sign of Advanced Age.

A bald-headed person does not have an equal chance with one blessed with a healthy head of hair, because baldness is too generally accepted as an indication of age. Many large corporations have established an age limit, and refuse to take men over 35 years of age as new employees.

Probably 65 per cent of bald-headed people may regain a good head of healthy hair if they will follow our advice and accept our offer. We have a remedy that we positively guarantee to grow hair on any head, unless the roots of the hair are entirely dead, their follicles closed, and the scalp has become glazed and shiny. We want people to try this remedy at our risk, with the distinct understanding that unless it does exactly what we claim it will, and gives satisfaction in every respect, we shall make no charge for the remedy used during the trial.

We know exactly what we are talking about, and with this offer back of our statements no one should scoff, doubt our word, or hesitate to put our remedy to an actual test.

We want every one in Rushville who is suffering from any scalp or hair trouble, dandruff, falling hair, or baldness to try our Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We want them to use it regularly—say until three bottles have been used—and if it does not eradicate dandruff, cleanse and refresh the scalp, tighten the hair in its roots, and grow new hair, we will return every cent paid us for the remedy for the mere asking. There is no formality expected, and we exact no obligation from the user whatever.

We have established right here in Rushville, and make this offer with a full understanding that our business success entirely depends upon the sort of treatment we accord our customers, and we would not dare make the above offer unless we were positively certain that we could substantiate it in every particular. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store, Lytle's Drug Store, Corner Main and Third streets.

"Dear Boy: I have been suddenly called back to the United States. As I didn't know how to get at you, I couldn't. I had a cable that takes me right back. I get the Lusitania at Liverpool and you can send me a Marconi. Better make the first boat you can and come over." Joshua Ruggles.

Ruggles left no word of advice, and unconscious of this master stroke on the part of the old man, whose heart yearned for him as for his own son, Dan folded the note up and thought no more about Ruggles.

When an hour later he came out of the Carlton he was prepared for the life of the evening. He stopped at the telephone desk and sent a telegram to Ruggles on the Lusitania:

"Can't come yet awhile; am engaged to be married to the Duchess of Breakwater."

He wrote this out in full and the man at the Marconi "sat up" and smiled as he wrote. With Letty Lane's badly written note in his pocket, and wondering very much at her summons of him, Dan drove to the Gaiety, and at the end of the third act went back of the scenes. There were several people in her dressing-room. Higgins was lacing her into a white bodice and Miss Lane, before her glass, was putting the rouge on her lips.

"Hello, you," she nodded to Dan.

"I am awfully sorry not to have shown up at five. Just got your note. Just got in at the hotel; been out of town all day."

Dan saw that none of the people in the room was familiar to him, and that they were out of place in the pretty brocaded nest. One of them was a Jew, a small man with a glass eye, whose fixed stare rested on Miss Lane. He had kept on his overcoat, and his derby hat hung on the back of his head.

"Give Mr. Cohen the box, Higgins," Miss Lane directed, and bending forward, brought her small face close to the glass, and her hands trembled as she handled the rouge stick.

Mr. Cohen in one hand held a string of pearls that fell through his fat fingers, as if eager to escape from them. Higgins obediently placed a small box in his hand.

"Take it and get out of here," she ordered Cohen. "Miss Lane has only got five minutes."

Cohen turned the stub of his cigar in his mouth unpleasantly without taking the trouble to remove it. "I'll take box," he said rapidly, "and when I get good and ready I'll get out of here, but not before."

"Now see here," Blair began, but Miss Lane, who had finished her task, motioned him to be quiet.

"Please go out, Mr. Blair," she said. "Please go out. Mr. Cohen is here on business and I really can't see anybody just now."

Behind the Jew Higgins looked up at Dan and he understood—but he didn't heed her warning; nothing would have induced him to leave Letty Lane like this.

"I'm not going, though, Miss Lane," he said frankly. "I've got an appointment with you and I'm going to stay."

As he did so the other people in the room took form for him: a blind beggar with a stick in his hand, and by his side a small child wrapped in a shawl. With relief Dan saw that Poniatowsky was absent from the party.

Cohen opened the box, took its contents out and held up the jewels. "This," he said, indicating a string of pearls, is all right, Miss Lane, and the ear-drops. The rest is no good. I'll take or leave them, as you like."

She was plainly annoyed and excited, and as Higgins tried to lace her, moved from her dressing-table to the sofa in a state of agitation.

"Take them or leave them, as you like," she said, "but give me the money and go."

The Jew took from his wallet a roll of bank notes and counted them. "Six," he began, but she waved him back.

"Don't tell me how much it is. I don't want to know."

"Let the other lady count it," the Jew said. "I don't do business that way."

Dan, who had laid down his overcoat and hat on a chair, came quickly forward, his hands in his pockets, and standing in front of the Jew, he said again:

"Now you look here—"

Letty Lane threw the money down on the dressing-table. "Please," she cried to Dan, "let me have the pleasure of sending this man out of my room. You can go, Cohen, and go in a hurry, too."

The Jew stuffed the pearls in his pocket and went by Dan hurriedly, as though he feared the young man intended to help him. But Dan stopped him:

"Before this deal goes through I want you to tell me why you are—"

Miss Lane broke in: "My gracious Heavens! Can't I even sell my jewels without being bossed? What business is it of yours, Mr. Blair? Let the man go, and go all or you—all of you. Higgins, send them out."

The blind man and the child stirred, too, at this outburst. The little girl wore a miserable hat, a wreck of a hat, in which shook a feather like a broken mast. The rest of her garments seemed made of the elements—of dirt and mud—mere flags of distress, and the odor of the poor filled the room: over the perfume and scent and smell of stage properties, this miserable smell of stage properties, this miserable smell held its own.

"Come, Daddy," whispered the child timidly, "come along."

"Oh, no, not you, not you," Letty Lane said.

PIMPLES

And All Humiliating Skin Eruptions Are Banished by the New Sulphur Treatment.

Oh, the anguish of those ugly unsightly, humiliating pimples, blotches, and other skin troubles! Why tolerate them? Don't you know that the one sure eradicator of these blemishes is SULFOSOL (sulphur in solution)? Sulphur has for ages been recognized by the medical profession as the one great specific for blood impurities, but the trouble was that sulphur couldn't be assimilated in the blood.

SULFOSOL is just soluble sulphur—made possible through the recent discovery of a secret of Nature by a great chemist.

SULFOSOL (soluble sulphur) is Nature's gift to that large portion of humanity afflicted with Pimples, Eczema, and all forms of blood taints and skin diseases. Get SULFOSOL of your nearest druggist or write to Sulfosol Co., 72 Trinity Place, New York, for free book on Blood and Skin Diseases and the successful use of SULFOSOL in their treatment.

his pockets, and as soon as the door had closed the actress took up the roll of notes.

"Come here," she said to the child. "Now you can take your father to the home I told you of. It is nice and comfortable—they will treat his eyes there."

"Miss Lane—Miss Lane!" called the page boy.

"Never mind that," said the actress. "It is a long wait this act. I don't go on yet."

Higgins went to the door and opened it and stood a moment, then disappeared into the side scenes.

Letty Lane ruffled the pile of bank notes and without looking drew out two or three bills, putting them into the child's hands. "Don't you lose them; stuff them down; this will keep you and your father for a couple of years. Take care of it. You are quite rich now. Don't get robbed."

The child tremblingly folded the notes and hid them among her rags. The tears of happiness were straggling over her face. She said finally, finding no place to stow away her riches. "I expect I'd best put them in daddy's pocket."

And Dan came to her aid; taking the notes from her, he folded and put them inside the clothes of the old beggar.

"Miss Lane," said Higgins, who had come in, "it is time you went on."

"I'll see your friends out of the theater," Blair offered. And as he did so, for the first time she looked at him, and he saw the fever in her brilliant eyes.

"Thanks awfully," she accepted. "It is perfectly crazy to give them so much money at once. Will you look after it like a good boy and see something or other about them?"

He thought of her, however, and caught up a great soft shawl from the chair, wrapped it around her tenderly, and she flitted out, Higgins after her, leaving the rest of the money scattered on her dressing-table.

"Come along," said Blair kindly to the two who stood awaiting his orders with the docility of the poor, the obedience of those who have no right to plan or suggest until told to move on. "Come, I'll see you home." And he didn't leave them until he had taken them in a cab to their destination—until he had persuaded the girl to let him have the money, look after it for her, come to see her the next day and tell her what to do.

Then he went back to the theater and stood up in the rear, for the house was crowded, to hear Letty sing. It was souvenir night; there

ACT QUICKLY

Delay Has Been Dangerous in Rushville.

Do the right thing at the right time. Act quickly in time of danger. Backache is kidney danger. Doan's Kidney Pills act quickly. Plenty of evidence to prove this.

Harrison Levi, 931 North Sexton street, Rushville, Ind., says: "I have nothing but praise for Doan's Kidney Pills, for they have been of great benefit to me. I was subject to attacks of kidney trouble and no doubt the complaint was brought on by the hardships I endured while in the war. I had severe pains in my back and the kidney secretions were irregular in passage. This weakness disturbed my rest and I knew that something must be done. Three years ago Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and procuring a box at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store I began their use. In a short time the backache and kidney weakness disappeared and I was in much better health. I cannot say that I am completely cured, but I know that I can rely on Doan's Kidney Pills for relief. I have previously given a public statement in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills and I gladly endorse them again."

were post-cards and little coral caps with feathers as bonbonnières. They called her out before the curtain a dozen times, and each time Dan wanted to cry "Mercy" for her. He felt as though this little act had established a friendship between them; and his hands clenched as he thought of Poniatowsky, and he tried to recall that he was an engaged man. He had an idea that Letty Lane was looking for him through the performance. She finished in a storm of applause, and flowers were strewn upon her, and Dan found himself, in spite of his resolution, going back into the wings.

THE HOUSE OF GOD

SUNDAY SCHOOL

Lesson II.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 8, 1911.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Ezek. xlvii, 1-12. Memory Verse, 9—Golden Text, Rev. xxii, 17—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The prophets foretell a kingdom of peace and righteousness on this earth to follow or in connection with the restoration of Israel and their reception of Jesus Christ as their Messiah when He shall come again in power and glory. No one does this more plainly than Ezekiel in chapter xxxvii, 21-28. The last eight chapters of this book describe the temple that is yet to be builded and the glory that shall fill the house when He will dwell in the midst of the children of Israel forever (xlvi, 1-7; xlv, 4-15). The name of the city from that day shall be, "The Lord is there," Jehovah shammah (chapter xlviii, 35, margin).

This story of the river of life, with its trees for meat and fruit and health, takes us back to the garden of Eden and on to the kingdom. Compare Joel ii, 17, 18; Zech. xiv, 8, 9; Rev. xxi, 1, 2; Ps. xli, 4, 5. The second book of Psalms, which may be a response to the second book of the law (Exodus), begins with mention of living water and the rock from which it flowed (Ps. xlii, 1, 2, 9), and in I Cor. x, 4, we read, "They drank of that spiritual rock that followed them, and that rock was Christ."

In the same chapter (verses 6, 11) we read that all these things happened unto them for ensamples, and they are written for our admonition. Full authority for drawing spiritual heart lessons from literal events is also found in I Cor. ix, 6, and its reference to Gen. 1, 3, "God who commanded the light to shine out of darkness hath shined in our hearts." Glancing back at the Psalms a moment the sequence of 45 to 48 is most beautiful and in accord with all Scripture, the marriage, the judgment, then the kingdom of peace, with a king over all the earth, and Mount Zion, the city of the great king, the joy of the whole earth. Compare Rev. xix to xxi.

Inasmuch as in our lesson verses we find the word "waters" fourteen times and the word "river" seven times, I take these two words as the key words to the heart of our lesson. I think of the waters above and waters below of Gen. 1, 6, 7; John iv, 13, 14, and of all our Lord's references to water in the first seven chapters of John's gospel and desire to be a well and a river of the living water that flows from the throne of God. If our hearts are truly and wholly the throne of God and the Lamb it will be so.

Suggestive Questions

On the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Press Bible Question Class.

Oct. 8th, 1911.

(Copyright, 1910, by Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.) The Life-Giving Stream. Ezek. xlvii:1-12. Read Rev. xxi:1-5.

Golden Text—Whosoever will let him take of the water of life freely. Rev. xxi: 17.

(1.) Verses 1-2—What does water, when used as a figure in the bible, generally stand for?

(2.) What house is here referred to, was it a real or imaginary house of God?

(3.) What are the influences which flow out from the house of God?

(4.) What blessings have Christianity brought to the world?

(5.) In how many ways is Christianity propagated? Specify some of them?

(6.) Verse 2—What are the chief means by which we measure, or test the beneficent influences of Christianity?

(7.) What is the least personal experience a person must have to constitute him a real Christian?

(8.) What are among the first blessings which come to an individual, a community, or a nation, on the adoption of Christianity?

(9.) Verses 4-5—What if any special blessings are there for the children of God, after conversion?

(10.) What are the limits to the possibilities of personal Christian experience?

(11.) What is your conception of the meaning of the figure "water to swim in"?

(12.) How may our growing conception of the love of God be illustrated with this figure of swimming in water that was at first only ankle deep?

(13.) Verses 6-7—From an art and utilitarian standpoint what do trees represent?

(14.) Show how Christianity ministers to the all-round needs of humanity.

I expect to see a literal river flowing from the city of Jerusalem to the Mediterranean and to the Jordan and Dead sea, according to our lesson and Zech. xiv, 8, but if any cannot receive that let all receive the spiritual lessons and so eat the word, as in last week's lesson, that all may be wells and rivers of living water, bringing life to many wherever we go. The temple or the tabernacle always tell us of His dwelling place on earth in the midst of His people and of His special presence above the mercy seat between the cherubim (Ex. xxv, 8-22). The altar by which the waters flow reminds us that there can't be life or blessing apart from the great sacrifice of Himself for us and His present ministry of intercession as our great high priest. The increasing volume of water to the ankles, the knees, the loins, a river, swim in, suggests the varied experience of believers. He said: "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly. I am the life" (John x, 10, xiv, 6). It is written, "He that hath the Son hath life" (I John v, 12).

Many seem to know an ankle deep enjoyment of Him, while others live in the ocean of His love, and there are varied experiences between these two. May Phil. iii, 10; Ex. xxxiii, 13, be our whole hearted desire, "That I may know Him," "That I may know Thee," abiding in a love that passeth knowledge. The waters give life and healing, and the trees give meat and fruit. In Eden herbs and trees were for meat and fruit (Gen. i, 29, 30). In Eden restored the tree of life will bear fruit every month, and the leaves of the tree will be for the healing of the nations (Rev. xxii, 2). Compare verse 12 of our lesson.

It will be a new day for the Dead sea when it shall have become a place for fishermen, and the waters shall be healed by the waters from the sanctuary flowing by the altar. Some one has said that the Dead sea is the greatest sin scar on earth because of the iniquity of the cities buried beneath it, but when the kingdom fully come in the new earth there shall be no more curse; not in the millennial earth, for there shall still be unhealed places and death, but in the perfect age or ages after the thousand years (verse 11; Isa. lxx, 20; Rev. xxi, 3, 4).

As far as we are individually concerned there can be nothing perfect about us in these mortal bodies, but in the glorified body we shall see as never before the meaning of such words as these: "Who forgiveth all thine iniquities, who healeth all thy diseases, who redeemeth thy life from destruction" (Ps. ciii, 3, 4). We may even have large foretastes of kingdom blessedness in order that we may show to others the power of the resurrection life which is already ours.

Ten more bodies have been recovered from the wreck of the Maine.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

Prayer Meeting Topic For the Week Beginning Oct. 8, 1911.

Topic.—New work our society might do.—Matt. xxv, 13-30. (Led by the executive committee.) Edited by Rev. Sherman H. Doyle, D. D.

The Christian Endeavor society stands for work. One of the principal reasons for its right to exist is that it has interested young people in the church by giving them something to do. In this particular it simply emphasizes the teachings of Christ, and nowhere is the idea that Christians should be actively engaged in the service of God than in the parable of the talent. As to each servant in the parable some talent was given to be used for the absent Master, so to each one of us God has given some ability to serve and some opportunity for service, and, as in the case of the servants, we shall all also be called upon to render an account of these abilities and opportunities. Whether the talents are many or few the result is the same. We are not responsible for the number of talents that we possess, but simply for the use of those which we do possess. Are we making the proper use of them? Are we doing the work which our hands find to do?

Christian work is always the same, but methods of work differ, and new methods always lend effectiveness and interest to the work. At one time the religious instruction of the young was largely confined to the home, but a mighty impulse was given to Biblical study when the modern Sunday school, as a place of instruction, was organized. Evangelistic work, when confined to the regular services of the church, was limited and inefficient, but how wonderfully it has advanced since special evangelists have engaged in the work and services have been held in tents, in halls, parks and the streets of our great cities.

What better illustration of the effectiveness of new methods of work could we have than the Christian Endeavor society itself? It is a prayer meeting, but a prayer meeting in a new way. It is singing, visiting, helping, comforting, giving, but all these under new methods, and hence the tremendous results. It will therefore well reward every society to seek out, under its local conditions, new work and new ways of working. Plan prayerfully and carefully, and in dependence upon the spirit for wisdom and power do your best to carry new plans into successful execution. Progressiveness is the watchword of the hour in almost every realm of life, and Christian workers must not be behind the world's workers when it comes to doing things. The best methods of work belong to God and should be used in the advancement of His kingdom.

Novelty is not to be sought for the sake of novelty, but successful methods are not to be shunned because they are novel. Methods are nothing; results are everything. But, whether the methods be old or new, do something—something for Christ, something for the church, something for the society, something for humanity. By all means avoid the fate of the man who buried his talent. Better to have tried and failed than never to have tried at all. "Be ye doers of the word."

BIBLE READINGS.

Ex. xiv, 15, 16; Hag. i, 1-15; Isa. iii, 1-10; Matt. x, 42; xxv, 31-46; xxviii, 19, 20; Acts i, 9-11; I Cor. xv, 58; Gal. vi, 9, 10; Jas. ii, 14-20; v, 19, 20.

Push the Young People Forward.

One of the most important tasks that Christian Endeavor faces today is the task of awakening the young people to a sense of their responsibility. The reason why some societies that once did fine work are languishing is that the work has been done too long by the older members.

It seems as if the rising generation will not attempt much as long as their elders are willing to do the work. The young people feel unfit. They think that they can do nothing, and they do not even try to do the little they can.

The constant effort in every society should be to feed its life from below by drawing young and inexperienced helpers into the ranks of the toilers. The various committees afford us the finest opportunity to do this.

Young people shrink naturally from the responsibility of service, especially when older people stand ready to do things. Gentle, wise and kindly pressure should, however, be brought upon them to enter the path.

There is a story told of Verrochio, the Italian painter. When he was old and feeble he was at work on a great picture, but felt that he could not complete it. He had one pupil in whom he had faith and who he felt could do justice to the work. He called Da Vinci to him and begged him to undertake the task, but the young man did not dare to put his hand to the master's picture, feeling himself unworthy and unfit. At length, however, the pleading of the old man wore down Da Vinci's scruples, and he consented. As he worked the sense of responsibility came over him. He put his best efforts into the task for the sake of the master whom he loved, and the completed painting was recognized by all as a work of genius.

Great gifts lie hidden in young people's hearts, but they need to be drawn out. This is the task of the older Endeavorers, and when it is well and wisely performed it infuses new life into the societies and removes the reproach of weakness and death.—Ripple in Christian Endeavor World.

Cascarets Insure

Inside Cleanliness

The Millions of Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Biliousness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your Bowels, Liver and Stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gasses; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and the bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A ten-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing too.

ILL - FATED STAR IS FOLLOWING HER

Mrs. Lydia Fagan of St. Paul Suffers
Many Peculiar Accidents in Short Time.

FLESH FALLS FROM HER HAND

The ill-fated star is certainly following in the wake of Mrs. Lydia Fagan, a resident of St. Paul. Only a few weeks ago she was using a butcher knife when it slipped and a large gash was cut in her hand and she was unable to use it. Following that accident she went into the woodshed after nightfall and struck a match near a gasoline tank. The gasoline outside the tank ignited and her arm was so badly burned that part of the flesh fell off. Her latest accident happened at the home of John Craig. She started to light a pile of kindling she had placed in a cook stove in which gasoline had been placed when it ignited and burned her left hand very severely.

READY FOR GALA TIME

Morristown Prepares For Sherman's and Kern's Stop There.

Morristown is preparing for a gala time next Tuesday, at the noon hour as the little city will have for several minutes as its guests Vice-President Sherman and Senator Kern and other notables of the political world. The two distinguished visitors have promised to make brief addresses during their stop in the city and the hustling business men of the place are arranging to have a big crowd out to greet them. They will arrive over the Indianapolis & Cincinnati traction line at 12:45 o'clock, the stop being one of the incidents of their trip to Rushville.

Uncle Henry Hall, one of Union township's oldest and most highly esteemed citizens was in the city yesterday. He is growing very feeble.

SPECIAL SESSION OF CITY COUNCIL

Meeting Tonight Promises to be Busy
One as Important Question
Will be Decided.

MANY NAMES ON PETITION

The city council will meet in special session tonight. Two very important questions will be decided and the session should be a very interesting one. Final action on the remonstrance against the paving of Perkins street will be taken as the titles to all the property have been looked up by the city attorney and it will be an easy matter to determine whether the petitioners or remonstrators have a majority of signers.

It is expected that the council will take final action on the factory question tonight. The petition which is being passed among the lot owners had up until noon today about half the names of the owners. It is planned to have all sign it and present the petition to the council tonight.

AUTOS FOR RURAL ROUTES

Speaker at Postmasters League Convention Says They Are Practical.

Rural mail delivery routes, covered by automobiles, which deliver not only letters and papers, but packages in conformity with a parcels post law was the revolution foreseen in the country-mail delivery by J. S. McKinley of Orient, O., in an address before the National League of Postmasters at the Claypool hotel in Indianapolis yesterday afternoon. Mr. McKinley spoke on "The Ups and Downs of the Rural Carrier," and drew a word picture of the changes he believes will come in the near future.

ALL MAILS BEAR NEWS OF CROWD

tations. The Republican county chairman in the counties in Central Indiana were requested to send a list of names which they did. Invitations were sent to these as a means of spreading the news all over the county. Aside from that invitations were sent to a few well known Republicans in other parts of the state.

The proposed meeting has aroused a number of very pleasing editorial comments, chief among them being the following from the Bloomington Telephone.

The Republicans of Indiana will commend former Representative Watson upon the invitation he is sending to leaders and party workers for a meeting to be held at Rushville next Tuesday, to be in the nature of a love feast on the occasion of a visit of Vice-President Sherman. The event should be a reunion of the great Republican family of Indiana and the Telephone, for one, hopes that many representatives of the party will attend.

There are differences of opinion between Mr. Watson and other Republicans of Indiana, as there always is between men of information who do their own thinking. It is one of the basic maxims of the party that men shall have and be allowed to express their own individual ideas. But when it comes to the one central thought that we are all Republicans, and believe in the cardinal principles of the organization, then it is time to get together, and we are pleased to know that Mr. Watson has taken an important step in this direction.

One thing is quite certain, and that is if we fight separately we shall die singly; and not until Republicans get this into their heads will they be on the highway to success. No organization in Indiana is large enough to divide into two armies and defeat the Democratic party in its present militant spirit, and every loyal Republican should recognize this fact at once.

If we are to get behind President Taft and succeed a year hence the first duty is to get together among ourselves. The one practical way to show our loyalty to Mr. Taft is to create a condition that will give him the electoral vote of the State. That is what the masses of the party most desire, because they have no differences to settle or no want of faith in the present administration. So if the meeting proposed by Mr. Watson and the coming of the Vice-President can assist in bringing about this absolute necessary party condition, then the love feast is sure to result in good. Anyhow, Republican workers should accept the invitation of Mr. Watson in the spirit in which it is evidently extended.

ATTENDS FIRST SHOW.

Shelbyville Republican: John Pile, a prominent aged farmer residing in Rush county, near Moscow, made his first visit to a motion picture theater Thursday night in this city. He is here the guest of his daughter, Mrs. Laura Stewart, and went to the theater at the solicitation of three of his friends, Val Scholch, J. W. Vannoy, and Dol Ferguson. Mr. Pile enjoyed the novelty of the situation to such an extent that he declared his intention of attending again.

PASTOR RESIGNS.

Rev. C. O. Whitely has resigned as pastor of the Friends church at Carthage, the same to take effect this month. Although his resignation has been in the hands of the pastoral committee for several weeks, and was made known to a few friends at the Yearly Meeting, no public announcement was made until Sunday morning.
